

Vietnam Education Symposium 2020

Tomorrow Schools – Future Citizens

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

(updated on February 24th, 2020)

EduNet team of AVSE Global (the Association of Vietnamese Scientist and Expert) and the University of Education, Vietnam National University Hanoi are pleased to announce the first Vietnam Education Symposium (VES 2020) will be organised in Hanoi, Vietnam, June 9th – 10th, 2020. Focusing on the theme “Tomorrow schools – Future citizens,” VES 2020 provides an opportunity for practitioners, educators, researchers, and policymakers to meet and showcase their latest research and most innovative practices to an international education community. You will have opportunities to join plenary sessions featured by leading international educational scholars and practitioners, and to develop research skills in friendly workshop sessions that are coordinated by AVSE Global scholars.

To foster constructive dialogues about Vietnamese education among stakeholders, we would like to invite you to come along and be a part of VES 2020 by submitting your research or practice-oriented papers. Accepted papers will be presented at VES 2020. Important works will be invited to be published in our publication projects.

Languages: In English (preferably) or Vietnamese

KEY DATES (GMT+7)

- April 1st, 2020 deadline to submit your work to VES organiser (see Submission Guidelines at the end)
- May 1st– May 5th, 2020 sending out notification emails
- May 15th, 2020 deadline to register for VES 2020
- June 9th – 10th, 2020 attending VES 2020 in Hanoi

SUGGESTED TOPICS

All theoretical and empirical studies related to these following topics are welcome in VES 2020:

1. Education development strategies with a focus on holistic competence development
2. Teaching and learning in the age of digitalization
 - a. Developing learners' competence through multi-dimensional education models.
 - b. Innovating teaching and learning methods through education-related sciences (e.g., neuroscience, psychological and educational sciences)
 - c. Upgrading teachers' pedagogies and competencies
 - d. Role of e-learning platforms and digital tools in enhancing learning outcomes
3. Collaboration in education: the role of communities, government, organizations, and schools.

Please create your account and submit your work via the Symposium website: <https://ves.sciencesconf.org/submission/submit> by April 1st, 2020. If you have any questions, please send an email to VES@avseglobal.org

AWARDS

- We will award travel expenses for at least five contributors from outside Hanoi. Please state in your submission if you would like to apply for that award.
- There will be two best paper awards, one for research-based papers and the other for practice-based papers selected by VES organiser.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

- Submissions should come in two formats: as an abstract or as a full paper.
- Your submission should include title, background, purpose of the project, theoretical foundation (optional), methods/procedure of collecting and analyzing data or evidence, a summary of findings, and implications for policy/practice.
- In case you submit a full paper (of up to 8,000 words), please follow the APA 6th style format. A practice-based paper, for example, one that reports/evaluates a community project or on-the-ground practice, should be between 2,000 and 3,000-word long.
- If your paper is accepted, you will be recommended for a suitable format to present your work at VES: a poster session, a formal presentation, or a panel session. Presentation guidelines will be provided in the notification email to you. We may also notify you of the possibility of publishing your work in one of EduNet-AVSE Global publication projects./.